About WeMind Cluster

An innovation hub working to improve people's autonomy.

Founded in 2013, WeMind Cluster is an innovation and business development ecosystem in ageing, neurosciences and mental health.

We enhance the competitiveness of companies and their professionals through innovation, interdisciplinary collaboration, and internationalization.

Our collaborative projects aim to provide comprehensive support, addressing the bio-psycho-social aspects of individuals with central nervous system disorders throughout their lives. These disorders or disabilities may be congenital, arise in adulthood, or be associated with aging, often within the context of chronic conditions.

As a centre of knowledge and convergence, the Cluster brings together agents from diverse fields including health, business, science, society, technology, and education.

Join the WeMind International Forum and be part of a transformative event fostering innovation, knowledge transfer and collaboration within the fields of ageing, neuroscience and mental health!
